
Foxbat Fly-in at Hummocks Station

Posted by c130phil - 2009/05/11 22:33

Hi guys,

The foxbat "flyin" in is on again this year and is certain for Hummocks station an hours flying time north of Adelaide. It's on the 13th of June which is a saturday but may arrive on either the friday or sunday.

Last year, there were local winery tours and a superb dinner on the Saturday evening, with plenty of the aforementioned beverage flowing. There is good flying to be experienced round the local hill top windfarm.

IF any one is intrested Call Roger or Merry on 0417 084 377 for more information.

Sounds like it would make a good, fun trip. :cheer:

Cheers,

Phil
